

Brighter Futures

KEYNOTE SPEAKER

Christian Guy

Name and role:

Christian Guy, Executive Director,
The Royal Foundation Centre for Early Childhood

Professional background:

Christian Guy leads the Royal Foundation Centre for Early Childhood, founded by The Princess of Wales, driving research, collaboration, and scalable early years interventions. He was previously Chief Executive of the international charity Justice & Care and has held senior roles in public policy, including at The Centre for Social Justice, where he worked on social reform and developed policy engagement across the UK, including connections in Jersey. He also served as Special Adviser to Prime Minister David Cameron, leading the Life Chances agenda, and brings extensive experience across charity leadership, policy development, and early intervention..

Speakers Perspective on why early intervention matters:

Early intervention matters because investing in the earliest stages of development builds stronger foundations for lifelong wellbeing, reduces future social harm, and creates the conditions for healthier, more resilient individuals and communities.

Together, we are creating Brighter Futures for families in Jersey.
